PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Full-stack software developer with two degrees in Computer Science, working as freelancer developer and former entrepreneur. Creative problem-solver with experience in leadership and in working with multidisciplinary teams. Open to work remotely or to relocate if needed.

After I acquired well-grounded knowledge of different paradigms at college, I became a self-taught person. Having established a creative and self-driven mindset, I developed and designed several projects, as my samples reflect.

My experience being a freelancer gave me the experience required to work in a remote position without constant supervision. Also as entrepreneur by being my own boss, gave me the experience to make decisions on my own and to negotiate business partnerships.
